Regretfully, we'll be unable to contact candidates who haven't been shortlisted for interview. If you don't hear from us within two weeks of the closing date, please assume that your application has been unsuccessful. If that's the case, thank you; we appreciate the effort you've made in applying for this role.

Applications will be reviewed by the members of the panel who will shortlist and interview for the role. We will retain applications for up to 12 months after the interview date, at which point unsuccessful applications will be destroyed. Our privacy policy for job applicants can be viewed here.

Equality, diversity and inclusion

In support of our work to develop an inclusive and diverse CPRE, we would be grateful if you could complete our equality, diversity and inclusion monitoring form which can be found here. Your response will be anonymous. Thank you for your help.

Please note that we only accept applications from candidates with the right to work in the UK for the intended duration of the appointment. If you are shortlisted for interview, we will conduct a right to work check prior to the interview.

Thank you again for your interest in working for CPRE.
Jenny Bulman, Operational Effectiveness Manager

About the role

As People Manager, you'll play a central role in shaping CPRE's culture and ensuring colleagues across the organisation feel supported, valued and able to thrive. Working within the Finance & People team, you'll lead our HR function and act as the organisation's specialist adviser on all people-related matters. You'll report to the Director of Finance & People and line manage the People Assistant, forming a small but high-impact team that works closely with colleagues at every level.

Your day-to-day work will be varied and hands-on. You'll take responsibility for reviewing and delivering our People Strategy, ensuring our systems, processes and policies are fit for purpose and aligned with CPRE's values. You'll oversee the full employee life cycle, from recruitment and induction through to learning, development and performance, and you'll support managers to apply consistent, fair and inclusive people practices. Much of your time will be spent coaching and advising line managers, helping them navigate people issues confidently and constructively.

You'll also lead on employee engagement, including managing our relationship with the trade union, administering the staff survey and supporting action planning. Producing clear HR and Health & Safety metrics will be an important part of the role, enabling the Senior Leadership Team to make informed decisions.

A significant focus will be supporting the implementation of CPRE's EDI Framework and Action Plan. You'll help identify practical ways to strengthen inclusion, improve people development, and ensure our recruitment and engagement practices welcome people from all backgrounds.

This role is ideal for someone who enjoys combining strategic thinking with day-to-day operational delivery, and who is motivated by helping people and organisations grow.

Salary: The starting salary will be £55,000 FTE

The salary is for staff members based at the London office (please enquire for out of London salaries).

Please note that our salaries are externally benchmarked, although we do take into account the level of skills, experience and ability the successful candidate brings. The pay structure is reviewed regularly to ensure that it remains market competitive.

Hours of work: 21 hours per week. Normal office hours are 9am to 5pm with one hour (unpaid) for lunch every day. Around the core hours of 10am to 4.30pm staff can flex their start and finish times. Occasional evening and weekend work is required, time off in lieu is provided and, dependent on role, there may be travel around England.

Place of work: Normal place of work is national CPRE's office, which will be at County Hall, Belvedere Road SE1 from 3 November 2026. Most office-based staff are now following a hybrid pattern, working part of the time in the office and part of the time at home, with at least 2 office days per week.

Probation:	The post will be subject to a three-month probationary period. Probationary periods may be extended if further time is required.
Notice:	During the probationary period, four weeks' notice of termination of employment is required from employer or employee. After satisfactory completion of your probationary period, eight weeks' notice of termination of employment is required from employer or employee.

Working for CPRE

We know that it is important to understand what it will feel like to join a new organisation. This is what we are committed to be as a place to work and thrive:

Our people make us who we are: You will join friendly, supportive and passionate colleagues working together to make a difference for the countryside. We collaborate across teams to inspire one another, and we celebrate our achievements together. You will be part of an incredible network of staff, volunteers and members, nationally and locally, all working to secure the future of the countryside.

A trusted and enduring impact: We've been standing up for the countryside for 100 years and with your energy and contribution will continue to do so. From our earliest days we've shaped government policies about the countryside, from the creation of National Parks and Green Belts to preventing damaging changes to planning legislation. We'd love you to be part of our future impact.

A role where you can grow: Build your career through roles with real breadth, with the opportunity for early involvement and to work with colleagues you can learn from. You will gain experience fast and achieve much. We will support you to build skills and knowledge that organizations will value wherever your career journey takes you.

With time to be you: Our work is inspiring, varied and fast-paced but we also know it is important to make time for ourselves. We offer an employment package that provides support for your wellbeing and a work environment with a commitment to inclusion. It's important to us that you can be yourself at CPRE, enjoy the work you do and feel like you belong.

Here's some more detail on our benefits:

Holidays:	25 days per calendar year, increasing by one day per full year of service up to a maximum of 30 days. Paid leave is also given for public holidays and three 'privilege' days, which are normally taken between Christmas and New Year. These entitlements are pro-rated for part-time staff.
Flexible working:	We offer hybrid working to office-based staff with the vast majority of staff able to work from home up to three days per week if they wish to do so. This role would require one day per week in the office. We have flexible start and finish times, subject to working core hours of 10.00am to 4.30pm.

Employee assistance:	CPRE provides access to a 24/7 GP service, an employee assistance programme offering both counselling and proactive health and fitness support and discount platforms that offer savings on a wide range of goods and services.
Pension:	CPRE offers a group personal pension policy with Aviva. CPRE will contribute to this policy monthly at a rate of seven per cent of current salary. CPRE will start making contributions from the beginning of the third month immediately following the start date. Staff members make a personal monthly contribution of a minimum of one per cent of salary. This percentage contribution may increase in the future.
Wellbeing day:	All staff are entitled to take one wellbeing day each year, in addition to paid holidays, to focus on their wellbeing. These can be taken individually or as part of a team wellbeing activity.
Staff days:	We organise regular staff days to enable as many staff as possible to be in the office at the same time, fostering collaboration and networking.
Staff conferences	We hold two one-day, in-person staff conferences a year, offering further collaboration and networking opportunities to staff.
Volunteering days	We encourage staff to volunteer with other organisations for up to two days each year (pro rata, this is paid leave).

About CPRE

We champion and celebrate the countryside. We shape solutions for the sustainable use of land and challenge bad decisions which lead to the loss of countryside and nature.

With a local CPRE in every county, we work with communities, businesses and government to find positive and lasting ways to help the countryside thrive- today and for generations to come. Our network of local groups: <https://www.cpre.org.uk/about-us/who-we-are/local-groups/>

What we do

We stand up for the countryside

We champion the value of our countryside and call out decisions that put it at risk. We work with communities, experts and decision-makers to protect and regenerate the countryside.

We promote solutions and positive change

We advocate for policies that support sustainable land use, well-designed development and a thriving natural environment. Our research, evidence and policy work help drive better decisions nationally and locally.

We show what's possible

We deliver practical projects across the country that improve landscapes, enhance nature and strengthen local places. By working alongside communities, we demonstrate that positive change is both achievable and lasting.

We build a movement for people who care

We bring people together – from long-standing supporters to new voices – to help shape the future of the countryside. By growing a diverse movement, we empower more people to speak up, take action and make a difference.

Our mission

(what we need to do to achieve our vision):

To promote, enhance and protect a thriving countryside for everyone's benefit.

What we say and do: <https://www.cpre.org.uk/about-us/what-we-say-and-do/>

Our impact in 2025: <https://www.cpre.org.uk/news/2025-cpres-impact/>

Our values

- Open: We are inclusive and respectful of everybody, no matter who they are or where they live. Our countryside is for everyone and so are we.
- Connected: We value lasting and effective relationships. We invite and encourage collaboration to find what is best for the countryside we love.
- Trusted: We use evidence, knowledge and experience to influence positive change. Others believe what we say because they know we can back it up.
- Inspirational: We bring ambition and determination to everything we do. We channel our passion to motivate others and encourage them to act.
